

FEATURE:

The recording environment has a landing page that allows users to;

- Add cameras directly from the device tree using a “temporary layout”
- Select cameras from existing layouts
- Generate a temporary layout based on tags

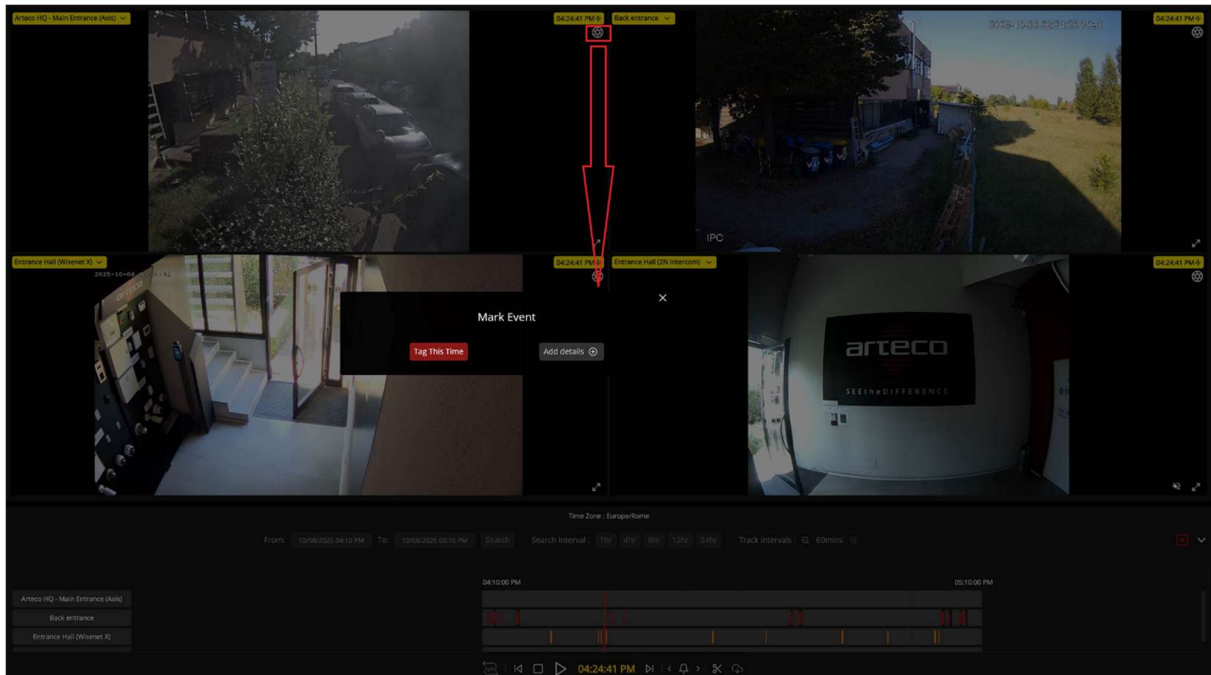

Once the selection has been made, either from existing layouts, or via tags, it is possible to switch back and fourth with the new toggle selector

RELEASE NOTES

While watching recorded videos, users can now generate events at that moment, using the instant event feature which was previously only available in the live dashboard

Users can now choose to view one, or more cameras live in the recording environment

Users can now choose whether to display time in 12h, or 24h formats. The selection is managed as a user preference
